ANOTHER LETTER CONCERNING THE EXPRESS ROBBERY

Which Seems to Vindicate Poor Fotheringham--Another Mexican Outrage--Other Happenings.

St. Louis, Mo., November 9.—The Globe-Democrat this morning prints a letter dated at St. Joseph, Mo., October 31st, and signed Jim Cummings, which purports to give a full history of the robbery of the Adams Express car on the San Francisco road on the night of October 25th, when between $30,000 and $100,000 in currency was taken. The letter was received by the editor of the Globe-Democrat on Tuesday. It included two express money envelopes, from one of which $30,000 had been abstracted, and from the other $12,000; also, the memorandum of the cashier of the Continental Bank notifying the American National Bank, of Kansas City, that $30,000 was included. The envelopes and memorandum have been fully identified as those taken in the robbery. The writer of the letter gives as his reason for writing it that he wants to clear Fotheringham, the express messenger, from the suspicion which now attaches to him. The letter gives details of the robbery and asserts that Fotheringham was taken completely by surprise, and had no participation in it except as the unwilling victim. The writer tells of a previous attempt to rob the car at Cuba Junction, and details the plans in which he and an accomplice secured letters heads, cards, etc., and secured signatures of the express officials to enable them to forge the order permitting the robber to ride in the car with the messenger. The writer says that the two robbers had a boat, which, together with a camping outfit, two guns and a box of provisions, they had secreted near the bridge at St. Charles, Mo., and also a package containing a revolver, which had been left at the check stand at the Union depot in St. Joseph on the day of the robbery. The letter is written in a round hand, evidently disguised, is fairly constructed and well spelled, errors where they occur evidently being intentional, as in the case of the misquotation, "Hoi rat you hair" with which the letter concludes, and the messenger's name which appears in every instance as "Fotheringham." Following the directions given in the letter, the skillful and provisions were readily found by the detectives, as was the package containing the revolver at the Union depot in check stand. Other corroborations of the letter were numerous. Fotheringham in his first statement said the robber had taken the messenger's pocket the forged letter by which he had gained access to the express car, the letter being given to the Globe-Democrat vindicating the messenger. The letter is in the same handwriting as that recently sent with some of the stolen money to Frank James. Notwithstanding all this, the detectives regard the letter as a clear "bluff" and do not plan to clear Fotheringham. Indeed, it is stated on pretty good authority, that the grand jury in session in this city yesterday found indictments against Fotheringham, "Jim Cummings" and two others, who have been not given, for complicity in the robbery. The detective think that the robbers, when preparing for the affair, took into consideration the extraordinary pressure which would be brought to bear on the express messenger, and that they laid their plans accordingly. That the guns, boat and provisions were left where found before the robbery there is no doubt, for people residing in the vicinity remember having seen mysterious strangers in the locality, and the guns were purchased near St. Charles several days before the robbery. The package at the depot check stand was also left there on the date claimed in the letter, the day of the robbery; but the detectives claim that the letter was neither written on the day claimed nor was it written in St. Joseph. However, they say the letter has given them some very strong clues, and that the whole truth regarding the affair will soon be known.

Fotheringham Having a Hard Time.

St. Louis, Mo., November 9.—When the Circuit Court convened this morning the habeas corpus case of D. S. Fotheringham, the Adams Express messenger who was robbed in his car two weeks ago of $100,000, was called. Fotheringham claimed in his petition which was presented to the court yesterday that he was unlawfully arrested and that he was entitled to a writ against his liberty. The writ was granted by the court. The court then continued the case until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The alleged mistake which necessitated Mr. Fotheringham's absence from court is believed to have been a piece of sharp practice by the Assistant Circuit Attorney, the Adams Express Company's attorney, by which the messenger was spirited away to give the company time to secure a bench warrant for the latter's arrest, so that he might be jailed before he secured his liberty on the writ of habeas corpus.

About 10 o'clock this morning one of Pinkerton's detectives placed Fotheringham in a carriage at the Southern Hotel and told him that he was about to be taken to the circuit court, where the habeas corpus case was to be tried. The detective was evidently under instructions to consume as much time as possible in conveying the messenger thither, for the coachman drove his horse at a walk and in a roundabout route, consuming about three-quarters of an hour in doing so, at least enough time to enable a bench warrant to be secured for Fotheringham's arrest.

When the carriage arrived at the circuit court, Deputy Sheriff Hart served the warrant and the prisoner was then taken to the Four Courts where he was locked up. A short time afterwards the grand jury who had been investigating the robbery returned an indictment against him charging him with grand larceny and with receiving stolen property. Two other indictments were returned, one against "Jim Cummings" and the other against Richard Roe, concerning the identity of whom nothing is as yet known.

Mr. Fotheringham was seen at the jail by the reporter and stoutly asserted that he was innocent of the robbery and knew no more about it than he had given out in his various statements; that he had been shamefully treated all along and was now about to be maliciously prosecuted.

Another Mexican Outrage.

St. Louis, November 9.—A special from San Antonio, Tex., says: Hewlett Griner, one of the most extensive sugarmen in western Texas, was killed last night at Los Y. cos, Mexico, just across the river from Del Rio. Griner lived with his family at Uvalde, and had gone over into Mexico with several employees to see about the condition of his stock on a ranch he owns there. Some time ago he had a difficulty with some Mexicans causing a joining his hands and the natives at that time threatened to kill him if he again appeared in their midst. Yesterday the Americans were attacked by the Mexicans and a pitched battle ensued. Griner's body was riddled with bullets, and one of his men, John Weaver, was also killed. B. P. McCahon, who was of the Griner party, succeeded in killing one of the Mexicans, and the surviving Americans made their escape to this side of the Rio Grande under a volley of bullets from the Mexicans. The Americans along the border are greatly incensed at this latest outrage, and declare they will have vengeance.

A Seducer Captured.

New York, November 9.—Frank Dubois, an Italian saloon keeper, of San Francisco, was arrested here yesterday, charged with abduction by Alfred Guyette, a blacksmith of the same city. Dubois formed a clandestine acquaintance with Guyette's daughter, Marcelle, 14 years of age, and had induced her and a girl named Minnie Merry, of Oakland, Cal., to elope with him, the latter passing on the Isthmus steamer as Dubois's wife, and Marcelle as his sister. The trio arrived yesterday afternoon from San Francisco, and the father reached here an hour later by rail. Dubois was locked up, and the girls were placed in charge of a matron.

Shot by Pioneers.

MACHIAS, MAINE, November 9.—Lymen A. Hill, of East Machias, and Charles Niles, of Weeley, were shot yesterday afternoon near the mouth of the Machias river, by two parties, unknown. Pioneers have been dogging a deer and Deputies Hill and Niles were about to capture their dogs when one of the two men with a double barreled shot gun, shot Niles and Charles Hill. The latter is a well known soldier. The robbers were on a well loaded with camp outfit. The officers are in pursuit with a man who thinks he can identify the criminals. The excitement is intense.

An Artful Dodger Caught.

Boston, Mass., November 9.—Geo. W. Burgess, of the firm of Burgess & Co., of this city, dealers in oil stoves and other small household goods, was arrested yesterday, charged with conspiracy to defraud creditors. He pleaded not guilty. It is charged that Burgess and his partner, whose name is unknown at present, obtained large quantities of goods on credit and then disposed of them to other dealers for cash, the firm failing at the limit of the credit. Letters have been directed to the police to reveal the fact that the failure was prearranged between the partners and also implicate Burgess's wife. These letters unfold quite an extensive scheme to swindle the Boston creditors of the firm. Their plan was to stock a store in Kansas City, obtain credit at a bank on the strength of the stock on hand, and then get away with the cash. The police are looking for Mrs. Burgess and the partner.

Search Abandoned.

Pittsburg, Pa., November 9.—The United States postal authorities have abandoned the search for the registered mail pouch that was stolen last summer between New York, Pittsburg and Indianapolis. Several clues have been followed for weeks, but none of them resulted in the apprehension of the thieves or the recovery of the stolen property. All of the parties who had packages in the pouch have not been heard from yet, but it is said that the value of the mail contents aggregated over $100,000.

Theo. T. Turner Dead.

CHICAGO, ILL., November 9.—Theodore T. Turner, ex-Comptroller of the city of Chicago, died here this morning. Mr. Turner was born in Ogdensburg, N. Y.

A Muddle in Extradition.

New York, November 9.—A Montreal special says Sheriff Hitchcock, of Peoria, Ill., arrived from Washington this morning with the President's warrant for the extradition of the emigrant, John F. Hoke. Proceedings were commenced today when Assistant Cashier Ely was examined, and testified that Hoke had filled in and negotiated blank drafts signed by him and the cashier. Hoke's lawyer says he will arrest the detective who arrested the defendant, alleging that they had no authority from the bank officials for their action, but merely did so as speculation, which is an illegal act under Canadian law.

Judge Tourgee in Trouble.

New York, November 9.—William D. Holmes has secured a judgment against the Our Continent Publishing Company in the Supreme Court, where Judge Tourgee was the plaintiff. The case involved the alleged overpayment of stock by ex-Judge Tourgee as publisher of the Our Continent Magazine. The amount claimed was money paid for such overpayment. In affidavit of George W. Walker, a witness, he states that Judge Tourgee had acknowledged the overpayment conversation. Judgment will be for $13,470, with two years' interest.

"Boodie" McQuade's Trial Fixed.

New York, November 9.—The case of "Boodie" Alderman McQuade was called in the Court of General Sessions today, before Recorder Smyth. The defendant was in court with his counsel, Richard S. Newcomb and time after time the grand jury who had been investigating the robbery returned an indictment against him charging him with grand larceny and with receiving stolen property. Two other indictments were returned, one against "Jim Cummings" and the other against Richard Roe, concerning the identity of whom nothing is as yet known.

Mr. Fotheringham was seen at the jail by the reporter and stoutly asserted that he was innocent of the robbery and knew no more about it

THE COTTON CROP.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE AVERAGES

Of the Department and Those of the National Exchange--Correspondence on the Subject.

New Orleans, La., September 29, 1886. J. R. Dodge, statistician of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, writes to C. H. Parker, secretary of the National Cotton Exchange of America, as follows:

"I notice that our averages of condition of cotton are lower this year and last than those of the National Exchange. I assume there must be a difference in the basis or unit of comparison. Both methods compare by percentage with 100, a unit which is used for various purposes for the area of last year, the standard of perfect quality, the expectation of a full or perfect crop, and has also been used to indicate the promise of an average yield. What the Central Committee make comparisons with, in condition of cotton?"

"Our reports issued in August gave percentage 97, pointing to 7,700,000 bales; September 97, pointing to 7,700,000 bales; October 97, pointing to 7,700,000 bales; November 97, pointing to 7,700,000 bales. In November we save no percentages, but stated that only in certain States named had October expectations been realized, and put the crop at 6,650,000 bales, an estimate which can be shown to be remarkably close to the actual production. A similar favorable showing can be made for the previous year, and we trust our work of this season will not disappoint us."

After noting some variations in the percentages given by the Department and the National Exchange, Mr. J. A. Renshaw, chairman of the Central Committee on Information and Statistics, asked that Mr. Dodge give him his views fully on the subject. Mr. Renshaw replied that they had copied the department's explanation of the decimal system as published a few weeks back, but in the 100 meant a full crop, but their understanding was the full producing capacity of the soil in each State. But, working on that basis, 100 this season would mean a yield of 7,950,000 bales. The percentages are made monthly and he said, relative to last year. The reply of October 21, 1885, was statistical matter. The statement of actual product was made as follows:

Year.	Area.	Bales.	Per Acre
1880	15,475,300	9,005,750	.582
1881	16,000,000	9,005,750	.563
1882	16,276,691	9,949,750	.612
1883	17,127,995	8,713,250	.511
1884	17,402,012	8,713,250	.501
1885	18,500,965	9,077,000	.491
Total	100,519,535	37,000,610	.368

This would make the average yield, for a period of seven years, nearly 37-100 of a bale. The average October condition of those seven years was nearly seventy-eight; an ideal crop (100) would, therefore, slightly exceed 47-100 of a bale. Applied to the actual average, 198,525,755 acres, 100 would indicate fully 8,500,000 bales, and 79 per cent of that would be 6,715,000 bales. The difference in Texas percentages is noted as follows:

Department.....	97	88	76
Exchange.....	98	98	90

Mr. Dodge accounted for these discrepancies thus: First, the department's basis of comparison is on an ideal undamaged crop, etc., and the exchange's basis is on the actual condition of the crop; and, second, there was evident too hasty a generalization, the decline to 90 being too marked. A great deal more correspondence and statistical matter passed between the two gentlemen, and Mr. Dodge concluded his letter of November 31 as follows:

Finally, the differences appear to be these: Our reporters, standing in the cotton fields, make the capacity of their lands, with usual culture and no drawbacks, this basis of comparison; yours, looking at the district, take the present condition of the crop, and lend enhancement to the view, try to forecast what the actual crop will be, drawbacks included. The view, a little rose colored, gives a result above the average, though far below the possibilities of an unimpaired crop. It would be well if both reports could be made on the same basis.

Carlisle's Opponent Will Contest the Election.

CINCINNATI, O., November 8.—George Thobe, Republican candidate against Speaker Carlisle for Congress in the Sixth Kentucky District, announces his intention to contest the election of Mr. Carlisle. He claims that after the contest, because very close the return in the back counties were "doctored," so that his representatives, sent to watch the official count, were given no consideration whatever, and in one instance were threatened with bodily injury.

OUR LITTLE GRANDCHILD

Cleaved, purified and fortified by the CURETTE. It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of my little grandchild by your CURETTE. When six months old his hands began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We pointed it out to the doctor, but he said it was nothing. After it became running sore. Soon other sores formed. He had two of them on his hands, and the other on his face. We were very much alarmed, and more and more it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the shin, beneath the knee, and another on the arm. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. His skin was in a state of constant irritation. He could not walk, and could not move when he lay down. He was very much distressed. We were very much alarmed, and more and more it took less time for them to break out.
